HER ARM IN A SLING

And the Closet Was Full of Little Pickaninnies.

The corps of young physicians brought here from Richmond by the city authorities to aid in prosecuting the vaccination campaign, are meeting with peculiar and varied experiences. They are accompanied by officers in order to suppress revolts and to add a little force to the persuasion of the medical men, when necessary. From past experiences with vaccination many people prefer to take the chances of having smallpox than submit to the virus.

At one place in the colored districts a woman met the doctor and officer at the door carrying her arm in a sling with huge bandages around it. Her face was distorted with the most agonizing look and her grunts and groans were pitiful. The doctor inquired the reason of her suffering, and with a distressing glance at her bandaged arm, told him she had been "vassilated."

The doctor was sympathetic and offered to do something for the suffering woman, and asked to see the arm. She cringed from this and said it hurt her so awful bad to unwrap it that she couldn't let him see it. The arm, however, had to be seen, and assistance was at hand. The bandage was taken off, and an arm as sound as a lightwood knot and without a scratch on it, was revealed. She may tell the next doctor who should happen to call, however, that she has been "vassilated," and will lose no time in taking off the bandage.

At another place the house was closed up tight and all within was as still as death. Upon the demand of an officer for admittance the door was opened and a house full of "grown up" colored people found. An old looking woman who was evidently the mistress of the place, in answer to a question from Chief Scott, said "Yes, dese is all de chillun I got." Scott is used to making "grains of allowance" in similar cases, and thought there must be some smaller children somewhere about the place, and began a search. He opened the door of a small closet and there stowed away was four pairs of bulged and shining eyes peering at him from four little kinky heads. The old woman drew a long knife and swore by the point of it that she would die before "dem babies should be stuck." The threat was disregarded, the woman put under control and the babies were vaccinated along with the rest of the "children."

TRINITY COLLEGE NOTES.

Correspondence Telegram

Trinity Park, Durham, Jan 20—The Science Club held its regular meeting Saturday evening, Jan. 9th. There was a large attendance. The first paper was by Prof. R. L Flowers, on "Explosives and Their Use in the U S. Navy." Prof C. W. Edwards described the different processes used in color photography, and showed stereopticon views of specimen work. The subject of reproducing the color in photography is one of great interest, and the discussion was a very profitable one. The Science Club is a very important factor in college life. Dr. J. I. Hamaker has been appointed curator of the museum.

The Historical Society will hold a civic celebration Feb. 22d. This movement was inaugurated last year, and great interest in it is manifested, both by the college community and the people of Durham. The speaker for the year will be Rev. T. F. Marr, pastor of Centenary church, Winston, N. C., one of the most important Methodist churches in the state.

The January number of the Trinity Archive is out this week. The first paper in the literary department is on the important and interesting subject of "Early English Magazines." There is one poem and the rest of the literary department is filled with fiction. The editorial and local departments are full, as usual. One of the notable features of the Archive this year is the remarkable sanity and breadth of the editorial department.

President Kilgo spoke in Main Street Church, Durham, Thursday evening, Jan. 18, on the "Twentieth Century Educational Movement." This address was delivered before a meeting of the preachers of the Durham district, called by Dr. Yates, to discuss missionary and educational work. Dr. Kilgo leaves Saturday to be gone some time speaking in the interest of the twentieth century movement. Sunday, Jan. 21, he will preach at Edenton Street church, Raleigh, and on Monday, the 22d, will address the preachers of the Raleigh district, in Raleigh. He will speak at Weldon, Jan. 23; Rocky Mount, Thursday, the 25th, and at Kinston Friday, 26th.

Mr. Albert Whitehouse, Director of the Angier Gymnasium, lectures Saturday afternoon and evening of this week at Horner's School and the Oxford Orphanage.

Dr. J. S. Bassett is to lecture at Wake forest College, January 25, on the "Personality of Abraham Lincoln."

Dr. W. P. Few will lecture before the Ladies' Shakespere Club of Oxford, January 27, on "Shakespere in Relation to Modern Life."

Prof. A. H. Merritt is announced to lecture at Littleton Female College, January 29, on "the Women of Momer"

A post mortem showed that Esther F. Hocking, two years old, died at Chicago, Ill., of measles, while being treated by Elder Carboon, a "divine healer."

BRYAN VISITS WASHINGTON

And Is Besieged by Numerous Callers

HIS VISIT WAS UNEXPECTED.

Senator Tillman Floored Senator Cullom in a Neat Manner on the Lynching Problem.

Special to The Telegram.

Washington, Jan. 20—Among distinguished public men in Washington city Friday morning was Hon. William Jennings Bryan. The great silver leader came to Washington somewhat unexpectedly, being enroute to Baltimore, where he is engaged to address a public gathering at the Maryland metropolis. Mr. Bryan immediately upon his arrival went to the Metropolitan hotel, where he always stops when visiting the national capitol. He was at once assigned to a room. Soon after his arrival became known to the senators and representatives, Mr. Bryan was besieged by callers. Among the visitors of Col Bryan during the morning were several of the Virginia and North Carolina representatives, Congressmen Davis and Sparkman, of Florida, and many other southern representatives, many of whom are making their headquarters at the Metropolitan hotel during the present session of congress. Col. Bryan received his callers pleasantly, and had a handshake for all of them. With several of the more distinguished callers, he was engaged for some time in close conference, but it is stated that his visit to the national capital at this time has no special political signification. Those who saw Mr. Bryan say that he is looking remarkably well, and is in the best of spirits and hopes, so far as the coming political events are concerned.

It was the intention of Representative Jones, of Virginia, to go Baltimore to address a meeting in honor of the birthday of General Lee last night, but he was obliged to cancel his engagement, as he had to attend another meeting of house democrats in Washington.

There is much criticism among democrats in Washington concerning the action of the democratic house of delegates in Maryland refusing to extend an invitation to the democratic leader to address the state legislature. To his callers, however, Col Bryan had no comments to make regarding the matter, saying the legislature doubtless had good reasons for not desiring him to speak at Annapolis.

At the meeting to be held at Baltimore tonight by the Maryland democratic association, at which Bryan is to deliver the address, none of the Maryland democrats in the house will be present. The meeting, it is said will be attended only by silver democrats. Senator Gorman and Governor Smith, and all state officials will be conspicuous by their absence. A silverite from Maryland in speaking of the manner in which Bryan is being treated by the so-called democratic leaders of the state, said that common decency would compel the democratic leaders to the state to treat the former head of the democratic national ticket with more respect. Another indignant silver democrat said that the republicans of Baltimore would show Col. Bryan more respect than has been shown him by the so-called democratic governor and legislature.

The other day Senator Tillman, of South Carolina, "floored" Senator Cullom, of Illinois in a neat manner, which caused a broad and almost audible smile on the countenances of the southern democratic senators. Cullom had presented some petitions from negroes in his state protesting against lynching of inoffensive colored people, and was proceeding to make the usual tirade against southern lynchings, when Senator Tillman interposed to ask from whom, and for what purpose the remonstrances came. Although he hated to do so, the republican senator from Illinois was compelled to sorrowfully admit that the remonstrance came from Illinois, and remonstrated against the shooting of the negroes who were imported from the south to work in the Illinois mines. Senator Tillman, in an ironical manner, said the south never lynched a negro for the crime of trying to earn a living. Senator Cullom, without further words, took his seat.

ENTERTAINMENTS.

The Increase at Bingham School. Teachers' Meeting.

Correspondence Telegram.

Bingham School, Mebane N. C., Jan. 19—The spring term of Bingham School has opened with a large increase in the number of students, and the class of boys to which the newcomers belong are of the best.

At the teachers' meeting held last Saturday night the program was very interesting. After prayer, The Value of Bible Study in Schools, was discussed by Prof. Hampton, after which general discussion ensued—in this all of the faculty took part, each discussing the relation between Bible study and his special course

Next Saturday an interesting entertainment will be given in school, consisting of sleight of hand performances, specialties etc, and much pleasure is anticipated. Another pleasant entertainment which is scheduled to come off at an early date is an old-fashioned candy stew, to be given by the faculty, to the students, in the school dining room.

The work of the half session just closed was of a highly satisfactory character, as were the intermediate examinations. The students standing first in their classes and on examination are as follows:

Mathematics and science—Brenizer, Brantley W., Oldham, Muller, Shaw, Morrow, Davis, Johnston G., Sturgis, Long, Council, Brantley W. and Hedrick.

English and History—Muller, Beall, Brantley, W., Brantley, R., Southerland, Beall, Fowler, Council, W., and Boone.

Composition and Expression—Brantley, W. and Falson.

THE MURDER IN DURHAM.

Negro Captured in Burlington Believed to Be the Murderer.

Durham, N C, Jan, 19—It is reported here tonight that McClure has acknowledged shooting Sherron, and that he says it was in self-defence.

At this writing the coroner's jury have not made up their verdict in the inquiry concerning the murder of Willard Sherron, which occurred in Smoky Hollow Wednesday night. They decided to wait, as some very important evidence may be forthcoming.

Ed McClure, a darkey, who stole J. H. Berry's horse on Wednesday night and rode it to Hillsboro, was captured at Burlington, and this evening was brought back to Durham. The flight of the darkey may or may not shed some light on the mystery of who the murderer was.

Some fifteen or twenty witnesses were examined before the coroner and his jury. Much of the evidence was of a very conflicting nature.

George Waring, the young man who was with Sherron, at the time he was shot, is getting along very well, and is thought to be in no danger. His wound will incapacitate him from work for some time. The wound made by the bullet is under the right arm.

Sillicus—"All men are born equal." Cynicus—"Yes; and the equality ends right there."

GREAT BATTLE EXPECTED

Forces Concentrating in the Vicinity of Ladysmith

PROBABLY WAITING FOR SUNDAY

By Cable to the Telegram

London, Jan. 20—A Cape Town special, dated Friday, says the Ladysmith relief forces are steadily working their way northward. Heavy fighting occurred yesterday and the Boers are retreating.

A dispatch from Durban dated Thursday night says: "It is reported here that Dundonald has smashed the Boer convoy. General Buller is said to be within twelve miles of Ladysmith and General Warren about six miles in the rear of Buller."

Rensburg, Jan. 19—(delayed)—A man who escaped from Colesburg reports that the Dutch inhabitants who are sympathizers with the Boers, are proceeding to the Orange Free State in anticipation of the evacuation of the town. Mr Van Der Walt, a member of the assembly, has already gone. The Boer force there is estimated at seven thousand.

General French has advanced eight miles east of Slingersfontein and is now within fifteen miles of Norvals Point.

WILL MARK CRISIS.

Brussels, Jan. 20—The Transvaal legation is following General Buller's new plan of attack for the relief of Ladysmith with the closest interest Leyds is quoted as saying the impending battle in Natal marks the crisis, and he believes that Buller is dividing his force and says if he is defeated he will be practically annihilated.

BIDDING HUSBAND GOOD-BYE.

London, Jan 20.—The Duchess of Marlborough, accompanied her husband from Blenheim to bid him God speed as he sailed today for the war as captain of the yeomany. She bore the parting bravely, though anxiety was manifested, and burst into weeping before taking final leave.

GREATEST EXCITEMENT.

London, Jan. 20.—The public is worked up to the highest pitch of excitement for it is recognized that the next big battle will be one of the hardest fought in the history of British arms. As it is understood here Lyttleton's outposts are in touch with those of the Boers toward Bradfontain, and shots have been exchanged between them Away on the left Warren is continuing his flanking movement. The Boers are rushing heavy reinforcements to check him and hard fighting is expected at any moment.

Boer reinforcements are also hurrying to Spearman Camp from the direction of Colenso. It was seen from a war balloon yesterday that thousands of Boers were working in trenches, throwing up earthworks everywhere along the British front White's guns at Ladysmith were heard booming yesterday and shells were seen exploding, which almost met the shells thrown from Buller's naval guns over the Boers' position.

REPORTS CONFIRMED.

London, Jan. 20—The reports of the advance of the British guns close to the vicinity of Ladysmith, are confirmed today and hard fighting is reported. One message said the Boers had fallen back defeated.

Pearman's Camp, Jan. 20—Firing from field guns was heard early this morning from the left and evidently General Warren has commenced the bombardment of the Boers' trenches at Latamyana Mountain. There was also brief Musketry firing.

EDUCATIONAL HISTORY.

An Open Letter from Supt. Mebane That is Interesting.

The following is a circular, or open letter from State Superintendent of Public Instruction, C. H. Mebane, addressed "To private school men and friends who are interested in our Educational History:"

Raleigh, January 19, 1900.

Dear Sirs:—On February 5, 1898, I sent a letter to the denominational and private schools of the state, asking them to take space in the official report of this department at a nominal cost of $1.50 per page. In response to this quite a number of these colleges and schools agreed to take space, some only a few pages, others more.

This report has gone into every state and territory in the United States, to nearly every public library throughout the United States, to the college libraries, and one special bound volume to the Paris Exposition, so that I think it will be of great value to the institutions as well as to the state.

I offer you the same terms as the others had to cover cost of printing, and hope that all the schools of any prominence that were not represented in my former report will be represented in the next one.

I want a short concise history of each school, and an outline of what has been done and is being done.

Will be glad to insert cuts of the colleges and school buildings, faculties etc.

I ask your careful consideration of this matter and hope to have a reply at an early day as to how much space you will want.

I desire to leave on record a history of all our schools and the work they are doing, for the good of the schools and for the good of the state, and for future generations.

Do not put this matter off, because you think there is plenty of time. It takes a great deal of time to get the information together from the various parts of the state, hence I start out on this work at this early date.

I shall also be very glad, if any of the "Old Schools" were overlooked in the sketches which were prepared by Dr Battle in my last report, to have a sketch of such schools.

Let no citizen wait for a personal invitation to write such a sketch, as I hereby extend a special request to any one and all who know of any such schools, or if you can put me in communication with persons having valuable historical educational facts that should be preserved for future generations, I shall appreciate it very much

No doubt there are hundreds of such schools, sketches of which if not written soon will be lost forever so far as our educational history is concerned. No charges for sketches of schools not now in operation.

I close this letter by asking the hearty co-operation of all private schools as to their history, and of all citizens in my efforts to secure valuable educational history that may be lost if not preserved in some official record like the Educational Report of this Department.

Yours truly,
C. H. Mebane.

THINK THREE TIMES.

The disposition of some people to attack and criticise, without good cause, corporations in general and railroads in particular, is devoutly to be regretted. Just and equitable legislation is well. It is as the pruning knife used on the vine by the intelligent gardner.

If in this day of industrial development and increase in population—and we refer especially to the south—requiring the quick and safe transportation of passengers and freight, the great highways of commerce which traverse the south should be destroyed by the fangs of populistic venom, that the result would be disastrous can be easily imagined. The hum of the spindle and the click of the shuttle would cease in busy mills; the light from furnaces that glow with the wealth of iron and steel would become as dim as the fire fly's lamp, cattle from a thousand hills find pasture in the streets of what are now prosperous towns and villages, forests of useful and valuable timber decay and enrich the neglected soil, fields of grain and tobacco become fallow stubble. From aching hearts and quivering lips the petition would go up, "Give us this day our daily bread."

The dream of the greatness of this proud empire of the south would vanish like the mists of the morning, the story of her possibilities be as a tale that is told and the sun of her glory go down in the blackness of night leaving behind it no afterglow of promise and no star of hope to illumine the darkness of her industrial desolation.

We do not think any well managed railroad is going out of business, but it is well enough for folks who abuse things to think how they would get along without them.

ONCE MORE.

The only reply we have to make to the latest strictures of the Siler City Messenger on the "authorities" of Greensboro about the smallpox is that said "authorities" are not physicians, but that they employed physicians in every case reported and acted upon the advice of said doctors. The editor of that paper writes as though he thought the people of Greensboro cared nothing for their own health or lives and permitted a disease to spread in order to injure Chatham by sending sick negroes down there. The Greensboro "authorities" have relied upon the advice of physicians, just as Chatham has done, but on being convinced of a doubt, the said hated "authorities" were the cause of the government expert coming here, and when his report was made, a movement was inaugurated that would learn even editor Morris something to come and see.

The vicious disposition displayed by the Messenger in its article this week, is evidence that it does not understand the situation. If Bro. Morris was posted instead of prejudiced he would not speak so bitterly of things. The following sentence, extracted from a column editorial, shows his feeling:

"Does any one think that after a people has been as badly deceived and as seriously damaged as our people have been done in this matter that they will quickly forget it or that they will place any value upon any statement that they may hereafter make in regard to similar matters."

With that we drop the incident, and shall continue to print the news as the "experts" give it to us. The authorities here may have been misled, but they have been guilty of nothing to warrant the unfriendly and hostile attitude of the Messenger.

Yesterday was observed as a legal holiday, it being the birthday of Robert E. Lee. Of him it can be truly said that he was the soldier and the man without fear and without reproach—being without stain the grand old name of gentleman. It was he who said that duty is the sublimest word in our language and his life was a sublime example of his precept. When his army fell back like the roar of broken waters from the burning heights at Gettysburg, amid the carnage of defeat, he assumed the responsibility and said human virtue should be equal to human calamity. The Richmond Times truly says he was Virginia's greatest son.

THE SUFFRAGE QUESTION.

Extracts of Senator Morgan's Great Speech.

The Charlotte News prints the following extracts from the great speech of Senator Morgan, delivered in the United States senate January 8th, 1800, on Senator Pritchard's resolution:

Mr. Morgan complained that Senator Pritchard's resolution, if adopted, would not have the force of law. It is not an enactment but merely the expression of an opinion. There are no penalties for its violation, by either individual or state. It is merely a fulmination and will have no effect on subsequent congresses.

"The honorable senator (Mr Pritchard) would doubtless have presented a bill that would reach and prevent the alleged wrong or evil he intends to suppress or prevent if he could have devised a scheme by which he could coerce a state to amend its constitution under the penalty of being driven from the union or of being refused representation in Congress or in the electoral college."

But such a power would abolish the sovereign power of the state and remand it to the condition of our territories, all of whose laws may be repealed by congress.

"In his original resolution the honorable senator distinctly took this ground as to the duty and power of congress in dealing with any state whose constitution violates the fifteenth amendment when he asserted that such a state has not a republican form of government. On further reflection he endeavors to get away from this dangerous ground and to retreat to a position that is apparently less strenuous, somewhat less heroic and less dangerous to the state and federal union. It is evidently intended by this substitute to declare in another form of words the same principle and the same appeal to the power of congress to deal with a state, as such that is only more distinctly expressed in the senator's original resolution."

* * *

The substitute resolution of Senator Pritchard is not true in point of law, Senator Morgan contended, and part of his close, logical, double-edged, Calhoun-like argument follows:

It (the resolution) is not a discrimination of race, color, or previous condition of slavery, unless the act excludes them by its terms, or necessary intendment from its terms for such causes. The exclusion of certain persons or classes or their descendants can be lawfully made in many cases and for many reasons that have no relation to race or color or previous conditions.

NO RACE DISCRIMINATION.

"In North Carolina the question before the people as to the purpose of the proposed amendment of the constitution is the same in substance if it is not identical with that which is embodied in the constitution of Louisiana."

* * *

"On examining the full text of the Louisiana constitution bearing on the question of negro suffrage I am satisfied, contrary to my first impression, that its legal interpretation discloses no purpose to discriminate against any person claiming the right to vote at any election on the ground of his or her race, color or previous condition of slavery.

"The great body of the voters in Louisiana who have ordained this constitution are men under 50 years of age and were never slave holders. They are not affected by the relations that existed between former slaves and their masters, but are confronted with a race question that is maintained by both races with constantly increasing vigor and is already a settled aversion, attended with ill-concealed bitterness, jealousy and hatred."

THE AVERSION OF BLOOD.

"There is no possible relief from this condition except to draw the lines of political separation as clear and as deep as is the line of racial distinction between them. It is the blood of the races that cannot lawfully mix, and no marriage tie is possible to create a lawful or tolerable union between them

"The separation is for the good of both races and is irrevocable. Being the work of divine wisdom it is right and is not discreditable to either race.

"In physical, mental, social, inventive, religious, and ruling power, the African race holds the lowest place, as it has since the world has had a history, and it is no idle boast that the white race holds the highest place. To force this lowest stratum into a position of political equality with the highest is only to clog the progress of all mankind in its march, ever strenuous and in proper order, toward the highest places of human aspiration.

* * *

"The people of Louisiana, after nearly forty years of terrible experience have taken the only peaceful methods left open to them to rid themselves of this fatal evil and injustice, for which they were never in any sense responsible; and the honorable senator from North Carolina is here endeavoring to rivet the chains upon her, and in turn to paralyze the efforts of the people of North Carolina to escape from the same horrible condition.

"Several of the other southern states urged by the younger men born since 1847, and many older men, are moving under the same impulse, in the same direction. They have not yet despaired.

"In Minor vs. Happersett (21 Wallace, 192) it is decided that citizenship of the United States does not carry with it the right of suffrage and that the Constitution of the United States does not confer the right of suffrage upon any one. That power belongs to the constitution and laws of the states.

"In William vs. Mississippi (170 U S., 213) the supreme court holds that the discrimination that is violative of the constitution as amended must appear on the face of the state law or a necessary intendment from it and not from the manner in which the state law is administered."

"In all these decisions we find that congress alone can exercise the power to protect the negro against discrimination in respect of the right to vote, and that its power under the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments is confined to this sole purpose.

"It must also be such a discrimination as appears on the face of the law that is complained of, and must relate alone to race, color, or previous condition of servitude. It is not enough to invoke the interference of congress that such discrimination is possible, or even probable under the administration of the law. It must be found in the legal construction of the law and in its effect. In this view of the law that governs in these matters the decision in the Mississippi case is conclusive to show that the text of the Louisiana constitution is not a legal discrimination against the negro on account of his race, color, or previous condition of servitude, and the act is valid against the power of congress to interfere with it.

* * *

"If the republic includes two distinct races—the highest and the lowest in the scale of intelligence and capacity for wise and good government—their respective representatives can not be equal in ability and influence, and this fact destroys the possibility of equality in political power. One class of representatives will dominate the other so completely that the idea of free and equal government will be banished, and the results will establish the race that is dominant over the other as a subordinate, thereby converting the republic into a practical autocracy.

"The history of the Republic of Santo Domingo, where the contest is between the negro and the mulatto, will become the history of our southern states if the basis of voting remains as it is, and the finale will be the expulsion of the negro or his extermination.

* * *

"It is the experience of the younger men, arising out of the effort to work negro suffrage into our political system as a harmonious element and not the prejudice or resentments of the former slave holders, that have prompted this strong and decisive movement in the southern states. It will never cease unless it is held down by military power. It is a social evil as well as political, and the cost of its suppression will not be counted by this and succeeding generations in connection with questions of material prosperity.

"No great body of white people in the world could be expected to quietly accept a situation so distressing and demoralizing as is created by negro suffrage in the south. It is a thorn in the flesh and will irritate and rankle in the body politic until it is removed as a factor in government. It is not necessary to go into the details of history to establish the great fact that negro suffrage in Louisiana and other souther states has been one unbroken line of political, social and industrial obstruction to progress, and a constant disturbance of the peace in a vast region of the United States.

"No historian will ever be able to collect a hundredth part of the facts of that distressing history.

"I owe them nothing but good will, but I cannot include in that debt the sacrifice the honor of the white race or the destruction of the prestige and hard-earned institutions of government, either to flatter their vanity or to reward those with power who have cursed this country with their enforced presence, or those who employ that race for the oppression of my native Southland.

* * *

"Armed with the ballot, on the pretext that it was necessary for the protection of their rights and as the complement of their manhood, it has afflicted them with social aspirations that are impossible of realization, and in their disappointment they have constantly persisted in seizing by force the privilege that they vainly strive to attain to, as grotesque decorations of their liberties. Under the license which they include in their options of liberty, desperate crime has been very often resorted to as their means of success, until there is no real safety for women and children exposed to their brutality even in the suburbs of Washington.

* * *

If southern white men have falsified election returns, they have the stronger, if not the better reason that they are acting upon the same law of self-defense that outraged human nature resorts to for the protection of homes and families, women and children, from a race that sets at defiance all moral restraints upon their brutal desires and fills the country with horrors that defy description and a retaliator vengeance that infuriates its inflictors with a spirit of uncontrollable rage."

He Only Repeats What has been Around th World.

It has been demonstrated repeatedly in every state in the union and in many foreign countries that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a certain preventive and cure for croup. It has become the universal remedy for that disease. M. V. Fisher, of Liberty, W. Va., only repeats what his been said around the globe when he he writes: "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in my family for several years and always with perfect success. We believe that it is not only the best cough remedy, but that it is a sure cure for croup. It has saved the lives of our children a number of times." This remedy is for sale by C. E. Holton, druggist.

When it comes to advice, we all agree that it is better to give than to receive.

Brave Men Fall

Victims to stomach, liver and kidney troubles as well as women, and all feel the results in loss of appetite, poisons in the blood, backache, nervousness, headache and tired, listless run-down feeling. But there's no need to feel like that. Listen to J. W. Gardner, Idaville, Ind. He says: "Electric Bitters are just the thing for a man when he is all run down, and don't care whether he lives or dies. It did more to give me new strength and appetite than any thing I could take. I can now eat anything and have a new lease on life." Only 50 cents at C. E. Holton's drug store. Every bottle guaranteed.

Millions Given Away.

It is certainly gratifying to the public to know of one concern in the land who are not afraid to be generous to the needy and suffering. The proprietors of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, have given away over ten million trial bottles of this great medicine, and have the satisfaction of knowing it has absolutely cured thousands of hopeless cases. Asthma, Bronchitis, Hoarseness and all diseases of the throat, chest and lungs are surely cured by it. Call on C. E. Holton druggist, and get a trial bottle free, Regular size 50 and $1. Every bottle guaranteed or price refunded.

Gaining a Wide Reputation.

As a cure for rheumatism Chamberlain's Pain Balm is gaining a wide reputation. D. B. Johnston, of Richmond, Ind., has been troubled with that ailment since 1862. In speaking of it he says: "I never found anything that would relieve me until I used Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It acts like magic with me. My foot was swollen and pained me very much, but one good application of Pain Balm relieved me. For sale by O E Holton, druggist.

WINE OF CARDUI

WOMEN WHO WORK.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 12.

Though only 19 years old, I suffered from pains and female troubles two years. Last spring I got so bad I had to quit work. I had to support myself, and could not afford a high-priced doctor. I got one bottle of Wine of Cardui and that made me feel better. Have now used several bottles and am well. My mother used the Wine for Change of Life and was greatly relieved.

McELREE'S
Wine of Cardui

Many girls and women find it necessary to earn their own living in various kinds of employment. Their work is often so hard and confining that the health breaks down. Their delicate constitutions are unfitted for tiresome tasks. Weakness nearly always makes its appearance in the peculiarly delicate womanly organs. Constant standing on the feet, and coming and going at the beck of a superintendent or foreman, induces falling of the womb, leucorrhœa, headache and backache. The pay of women workers is often so notoriously small that when sickness comes they have no money to engage skillful physicians. To them Wine of Cardui is truly a blessing. It cures them of their ills at a small cost, and they can act as their own physicians. No doctor can do as much for "female troubles" as Wine of Cardui.

WITH AXE AND RAZOR.

Horrible Crime of Martin Bergen, Baseball Catcher.

North Brookfield, Mass., Jan. 19—Martin Bergen, the catcher of the Boston base ball team of the National League, killed his wife and two children and committed suicide at his home here today. An axe was the implement using in takin the life of Mrs. Bergen and one of the children, while e razor was employed to cut the throat of the other child a little girl and of the man himself.

It is thought the action was due to insanity. It has been suspected for some time that Bergen was a victim of mental derangement.

The tragedy wgs discovered by the neighbors who found the body of Bergen and the girl lying on the kitchen floor. Deep cuts in the throat of the father and child showed how death had been inflicted, and a blood stained razor lay near by. Further investigation showed that Mrs. Bergen and the boy had also been killed. Their bodies lay upon a bed in the chamber, and near by was an axe covered with blood.

The heads of both the woman and the child had been crushed by the blunt end of the axe, and presented horrible wounds. Bergen was 29 years of age. His wife was about the same age, the little girl 8 or 9 years old and the boy a little younger.

TIBBS WAS ELECTED.

THE FLIGHT OF ORATORY THAT WON HIM A PAGESHIP.

Jimmie Was Not Bashful, and His Early Call on Senator Eldridge Gave That Gentleman an Inspiration In Words That Carried the Day.

Below is printed the noted speech of Senator Eldridge of Shelby in nominating Jimmie Tibbs, the Nashville newsboy, to be page of the senate. Senator Eldridge had made the newsboy's cause his own, though the little fellow came to him unknown, with no stronger supplicancy than the boy's frail yet energetic appearance. Senator Eldridge had notified the senate that the man who voted against Tibbs voted against the senator from Shelby, and the sweetness of revenge would come when the opposing voter wanted the senator's support on a local bill. The speech was as follows.

"Mr. Speaker, I nominate for page Jim Tibbs of Davidson county. There can be no ulterior motive ascribed to this nomination, no railroad passes, no champagne suppers, no political pulls. I come from the muddy Mississippi river and Mr. Tibbs from the misty mountain tops of middle Tennessee. Mr. Tibbs has seen ten summers, but many, many winters have shed their snow on his sunny head. His freckled, anxious face is standing there gazing at me now. He is looking up now, but for nearly all his life he has looked down as he has shined the big feet of small men.

"Mr. Speaker, Mr. Tibbs is not here as a supplicant for pity or sympathy. Mr. Tibbs is a man and the head of a family. Mr. Tibbs has met the dizzy, sinsick world and won out. He has not become as dizzy or as sick as you and I, and, therefore, I will not refer to the humble home of Mr. Tibbs or the old mother who, no doubt, is on her knees praying to Almighty God for Mr. Tibbs. I will not refer to the paralyzed brother who, like myself, knows that Mr. Tibbs cannot fail. But somehow I feel cold when I think of that snowstorm out yonder and how it must rattle the curtainless windows of Mr. Tibbs' residence. And, Mr. Speaker, I somehow do wish that the mother of Mr. Tibbs would kindly mention this great senate in that prayer, for, if she did, I believe it would suit its constituents better, and we would come nearer coming back next time.

"Mr. Tibbs, like myself, has been blown into this senate by the sublimity of luck. Destiny chooses her disciples with unerring aim, and those who oppose Mr. Tibbs are fighting God. I will tell you why I think this. I am stopping at the Tulane hotel, by the faith of the host thereof. My wife and baby are with me there. Yesterday morning I had been up very early discussing the question of a new constitution for myself and my state.

"At 6 in the morning Sarah was softly humming to the teething baby, rocking him back to rest, to sleep and to forgetfulness, which is the only rest. The old refrain rose and fell as the nodding of a flower

'Jesus can make a dying bed
Feel soft as downy pillows are,
While on his breast I lean my head
And softly breathe my life out there.

"Knock! knock! 'Come in.' I angrily said, expecting a bellboy.

"Mr. Tibbs appeared. He came to the bed and said 'Senator, I am named Tibbs, and I want to be page of the senate. I want you to make the rest of them vote for me, please sir.'

"'Mr. Tibbs,' I replied, 'does it not occur to you that you are crowding me somewhat? Don't you think for the kind of a day and the time of day that your visit is not the proper thing?'

"'Well, it is good daylight,' he said, 'and I have been up some time.'

"'Yes, sir, all men should be ready for business by this time,' was my rejoinder, 'but why do you come to me and how did you find me?'

"'I saw you in the Climax saloon yesterday, and Mr Maddin, the barkeeper, said you were a senator,' came the unhesitating answer.

"I quickly glanced at my wife, the rocking had stopped, and the baby, hearing a strange voice, had ceased his complaint and was sitting up, looking like a jack rabbit in a bed of lilies, all eyes and ears.

"I said, 'Mr. Tibbs, I must ask you to excuse me. I will call on you later.'

"'Yes, sir. I will see you,' he replied, and went away.

"Sarah turned her head and said, 'Will, I am for Tibbs.'

"Mr Speaker, I arose and raised the curtain of the window. The east seemed flecked with a swarm of golden bees; the sun, that had been away, was knocking at the front door of this planet. Sir, who can tell of the systems and cycles he had smiled upon, of his unspeakable glory and sublimity? The light of this sun will fade by and by. At one time it was born, at one time it must surely die, but, sir, the fire I had seen in the eyes of Jimmie Tibbs will not die. It is older than the sun. It has stood floods of storm and wrath that would quench that sun. One is of today, but the faith, the courage and the hope of Tibbs make us dream again of the immortality of the soul."

Tibbs was elected.—Nashville American.

THIS STATE NOT INFESTED.

A New Yorker Who Wanted Information Relative to Tramps.

The secretary of state, Dr. Cyrus Thompson, is in receipt of a rather interesting letter from a New Yorker on the subject of tramps.

J. V. N. Smith of Cambridge, N. Y., writes the secretary of state as follows:

"Do you still have the law in force to work the convicts and tramps on the highways? If so, do you have officers chosen or elected for the special work, or do the commissioners have charge of them? I read in a paper that you tried it, and as a result did not have as many tramps in the state as you used to. If yet in force, will you please send me a copy, as I wish to try and get a similar law in this state as we have too many tramps."

Dr. Thompson informed the New Yorker that North Carolina had no such law, and he said, among other things, in his letter of reply:

"This state is not much infested with tramps, the opportunity for employment being general."—Morning Post.

Free of Charge.

Any adult suffering from a cold settled on the breast, bronchitis, throat or lung troubles of any nature, who will call at Grissom & Fordham's, will be presented with a sample bottle of Boschee's German Syrup, free of charge. Only one bottle given to one person, and none to children without order from parents. No throat or lung remedy ever had such a sale as Boschee's German Syrup in all parts of the civilized world. Twenty years ago millions of bottles were given away, and your druggist will tell you it subdues was marvelous. It is really he only throat and lung trouble generally endorsed by physicians. Only 75 cent bottle will cure or prove its value. Sold by dealers in all civilized countries.

What a woman reads a novel she generally looks over the first and last chapters, and guesses at the rest.

J. I. Berry, Logaston, Pa., writes I am willing to take my oath I that was cured of pneumonia entirely by the use of One Minute Cough Cure entirely after doctors failed. It also cured my children of whooping cough." Quickly relieves and cures coughs, colds, croup, grippe and throat and lung troubles. Children all like it. Mothers endorse it. Howard Gardner.

BRIEF LOCAL MATTERS.

Oscar Lewis, of Charlotte, is here today.

A stenographer wanted. See penny ad today.

Frank D. Jones, of Gulf, was in the city today.

R. S. Mebane came in today from the south.

Dr. C D. McIver left at noon for Philadelphia.

H. W. Miller passed through to Raleigh at noon.

P. J. Weiland ran over to Walnut Cove this morning.

Chas. Fisher, formerly of Greensboro, is here today.

Gardner has some interesting reading in his space today.

Mrs. Mary Reid left for her home at Winston this morning.

George W. Pritchett went up to Winston this morning on a business trip.

Mrs. S. E. Allen and children, of Winston, passed through this morning moving to Concord.

A meeting of the Eagle Dramatic Club is ordered for Monday night at 8 o'clock, Miss Susie Stone, President.

It is reported that the furnace may be moved to a point where ore is more plentiful and cheaper, exactly where is not known.

W. W. Workman is doing some good work on the Bonbow House furniture. He makes the old furniture look good as new.

Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Cox, of Cedar Falls, are in the city, spending the day with Mrs. Crocker, on Douglas street returning home from their bridal tour Mrs. Crocker is Mrs. Cox's grandmother.

Messrs King & Kimball are beginning to move into the Gilmer building opposite the court house, formerly occupied by the revenue department. There are some rolling stones that gather considerable moss.

A colored man of intelligence, who objected to being vaccinated, was escorted by Policeman Jeffreys to Mayor Taylor's office. After a brief interview with the Mayor he very wisely decided to be vaccinated.

Dr. Rierson is getting down to business He has donned a suit of overalls for his work as superintendent of health. The doctor is not going in for style but has evidently got hood in his eye for smallpox.

Dr. J A. Weston, of Hickory, registered at the McAdoo last night. Dr. Weston is well known as the author of a work establishing the identity of Peter Stuart New, who died in Rowan county, as Napoleon Bonaparte's great Marshal Ney.

It is learned here that the town of Randleman has quarantined against Greensboro. It will do precious little good when it is known or so stated by physicians that the disease is all over the country. The only way to do it successfully is to vaccinate and then if it comes tight your way through it.

Those who braved the inclement weather (mud and rain) Friday evening to attend the B. Y. P. U. party, given by Misses Lessie Hunter and and Ethel Finlator, were a unit in voting them charming hostesses. Mrs. J. M. Sikes contributed to the pleasure of their guests by serving an elegant supper at eleven.

When making their rounds Dr. Schenk and Chief of Police Scott paid a visit to the house of a colored lady of glib but uncertain speech. Chief Scott on looking round, remarked: "There ought to be more children here, where are they? The said lady most emphatically declared that there "wasn't none." The chief was skeptical, however, and opening a closet of very small dimensions discovered four little pickaninnies, packed like peas in a pod. The entire progeny were properly scratched.

Left Alone.

It is reported that a negro out at Young's nurseries has broken out with smallpox and that neighbors and friends have left him alone. The attention of the proper authorities will probably be called to the fact, as it should be.

School No. 3.

City School No. 3, at the Normal College, will reopen on Jan. 30. No pupil will be admitted who does not present a physician's certificate stating that he has been successfully vaccinated during the past twelve months.

By order of the board of education.

Notice of Dissolution.

The firm of Hatch & Brunson, furniture dealers, has this day been dissolved by mutual consent, T. A. Hatch purchasing the business and will continue at the old stand under the firm name of T. A. Hatch & Co., who assume all the liabilities of the late firm.

j18 10t Hatch & Brunson.

BLINDness may come to you unless you give better attention to your eyes. You certainly value your eyes more than you do a few dollars. We can help you with right glasses at right prices. Drs. Moore, 112 E. Market street. 2t

New lot E. Z. waists, new percales, new 30 cent dress plaids, new navy blue mohairs, new black and white mohair, new ready-to-use pillow cases, sheets and roller towels just opened at Thacker & Brockmann.

A New Machine.

This is truly an age of progression. The latest but not by any means the least is the new Commercial Graphophone, now on exhibition by Moore Optical and Talking Machine Co., 112 E Market street. It is, in our estimation, far superior to a stenograper. You can dictate as rapidly as you please and it is never necessary to repeat. You can dictate alone, at any hour, day or night, that suits best. During dictation the typewriter can be at other work and there is no doubt but an operator can accomplish twice as much as is possible from shorthand notes. It is so simple any one can operate it and there is no excuse for mistakes. It is truly a "marvel of ingenuity." Business men should examine it, as it is very interesting.

A Scrap.

Last night a party of men who had been imbibing too freely of the ardent were advised by the police to make tracks homeward. When they had gone some distance out on Summit avenue, one or more of them proceeded to play a vigorous tattoo on the head of another with a stick, after which performance the aggressors disappeared. The name of the party with the injured cranium is Duncan. The names of the others are not known.

Look Out for Them.

Two colored people, Martha Blackburn and her son, were discharged from the A. & M. college for refusing to be vaccinated. The police are trying to locate them, and all people are hereby warned against employing them. This is done simply as a matter of precaution. It is not thought that they have smallpox, but it is well to be on the safe side.

Twenty New Students.

President Peacock tells the Telegram that Greensboro Female College now has the largest attendance it has had in five years. Twenty new students have been enrolled since Christmas, and the college is doing the best work in its history. All friends of the institution and of education generally will rejoice to learn this.

If its infant's or small children's shoes you want to buy don't forget that we make a specialty of this line. We have a very complete assortment of sizes now in both laced and button shoes, in cheap, medium and fine quality. Thacker & Brockmann.
